The Noble War

In the beginning of American horror story Tate says " I prepare for the noble war . I'm calm ; I know the secret . I know what's coming and I know no one could stop me , including myself . I kill people I like . Some beg for their life . I don't feel sad . I don't feel anything . It's a filthy world we live in . It's a filthy goddamn helpless world , and honestly , I feel like I am helping to ...

God, War, and Providence: The Epic ... - Barnes & Noble

Noble War dwells a long time on celestial court shenanigans, and if you are not predisposed toward tolerating Sompote Sands' strange ideas about pacing and comedy, the first hour is a bit of rough going punctuated only by one really good scene involving temple throwing and that six-armed monster. Oh, and the weird pig carcass bit.

" I prepare for the noble war " || Tate Langdon

I usually pick the noble war for my first crisis because A) great loot and B) I like fighting humans, but I keep failing to it, hard. I can take a company up to when it triggers and reliably beat most regular pre-crisis encounters, but time and again the war demolishes me.

Strategy for noble war? : BattleBrothers

Noble war is the toughest 1st crisis. BUT, the caveat here is that you don't have to fight in it, at all. So if you feel undergeared, better skip. As for gear, 200+. And better have four 11+ lvl archers, so they can clear noble forces of their many pikemen and arbalesters.
