The Secret History

The first paragraph of The Secret History roughly sums up the mood of the book. In it, the narrator, Richard Papen, says that he thinks his fatal flaw is 'a morbid longing for the picturesque at all costs'. If you can relate to these words, chances are you'll love The Secret History. If not, you'll probably wonder what the fuss is all about.

History by Donna Tartt is like drinking the scotch the characters drink in the book. I still don't think I can put my feelings into words, but I can honestly say this book was a cathartic experience for me, and the irony of the word "catharsis" being a Greek rooted word is not lost on me, because if this book is anything it's a modern ...
