Individual revelation. Thomas Aquinas believed in two types of individual revelation from God, general revelation and special revelation. In general revelation, God reveals himself through his creation, such that at least some truths about God can be learned by the empirical study of nature, physics, cosmology, etc., to an individual. Special revelation is the knowledge of God and spiritual ...

The 12 Tribes of Israel. Throughout the early chapters of Genesis God deals with mankind through individuals. He created with Adam, He walked with Enoch, He saved Noah, and He called Abraham. In the case of Abraham, God took one man, uprooted him from home and family, moved him hundreds of miles away to a foreign and dangerous land, and established him in that land called Canaan.

In the beginning: Theological discussions in the first centuries of the Church centered on the nature of God, the Trinity, as well as repentance, holy living, and salvation. The theologians of this era are commonly called the Fathers of the Church, and so the era is called the Patristic Age. There were fewer fathers in the west, so the Patristic age did not last as long in the west.
